PARK PROJECTS ARE DISCUSSED

Improvements Are Sought For Centennial, West End Sites

Improvements this spring to Centennial park, as well as the West End playlot, were discussed by members of the park commission at their annual meeting yesterday in Mayor Norman Phillips' office.

The park board will lay cement walks to both shelter houses at Centennial park to replace the gravel walks which are now used. Plans also are being considered to construct an asphalt, or hard surface for the tennis courts which were built a year ago.

Donations Sought

Two horseshoe courts and one badminton court will be constructed at Centennial park, too, if the commissioners' plans materialize. Donations will be sought to aid in the hard-surface treatment of the tennis courts and construction of the horseshoe and badminton courts, Secretary Clyde R. Reich said.

Several organizations in the city already have offered financial assistance.

Shrubbery at the park is now being trimmed and flowers are to be planted soon in the various beds. The drives at the park are to be oiled again this summer to keep down the dust.

The secretary announced that 43 reservations, mostly for weekend

STORE MARKS ANNIVERSARY

Schwartz's, On S. Broadway, In Business Here For 25 Years; Has Shown Steady Growth

Schwartz's, on S. Broadway, will observe their 25th anniversary Thursday with a special sale to commemorate the event.

The department store was founded 25 years ago by Joseph A. Schwartz and has been in the same location ever since. The store, however, now has seven times as much space.

Last year the firm enlarged by opening up second floor quarters.

Five women employes have worked at the store a little better than 18 years apiece, totaling 93 years altogether.

DEWEY AND FDR TAKE ILLINOIS

Vandenberg and Garner Trail In Preferential Primary

(By Associated Press)

Thomas E Dewey and Franklin D. Roosevelt by fresh triumphs in the midwest farm belt today strengthened a leadership in the 1940 presidential races that challenged other contenders.

In Nebraska's Republican preferential primary, Dewey was running well ahead of Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, just a week after an easy Wisconsin victory over the Michigan senator.

Dewey had 48,864 and Vandenberg 37,552 from 1,113 of the state's 2,033 precincts.

In Illinois Mr. Roosevelt rolled up a 6 to 1 margin over the anti-third term candidacy of Vice President Garner, causing state Democratic leaders to describe the vote as a "demand" for the President's renomination.

The vote (5,741 out of 8,336 precincts): Roosevelt 813,064; Garner 131,369.

Dewey was unopposed in Illinois, but his supporters had hoped for a big turnout as a harbinger of Republican strength in November. Mr. Roosevelt's total was running well ahead of the combined votes for Garner and Dewey, although the New York prosecutor was about even with the President in the non-metropolitan areas.

Mr. Roosevelt had no opposition in Nebraska, where his total was below the Dewey-Vandenberg aggregate. In neither state are the primary results binding on the national convention delegates

The principal Democratic contest in Nebraska involved the senatorial race in which Sen. Edward Burke was trailing Gov. R. L. Cochran, who had accused Burke of breaking his original New Deal pledges.

"CASH-CARRY" PLAN TO COVER SCANDINAVIANS

American Neutrality To Be Adapted to Nazi "Protectorate"

TECHNICALITIES ARE ENCOUNTERED

Bank Credits to Norway And Denmark Will Be Affected

BULLETIN
(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The administration adopted today a "stop, look and listen" attitude with regard to permitting Scandinavian countries to make use of credits extended by the export-import bank for financing purchases of non-military goods in this country.

This was reported by Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, after he conferred at the White House with President Roosevelt and Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles.

Applying the term "stop, look and listen" to the course the government will follow for the immediate future, Jones said that "we want to wait and see how things go" before deciding on a permanent policy.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 10.—President Roosevelt and his chief advisers on foreign affairs formulated executive decrees today to adapt American neutrality to Nazi Germany's "protectorate" over Denmark and Norway.

Secretary Hull and Undersecretary Welles virtually had finished work on a series of orders, some of them designed to invoke the neutrality act's "cash and carry" and no-credits restrictions against the two Scandinavian nations.

Confer With Roosevelt

They discussed the measures with the chief executive immediately on his return last night from Hyde Park, N. Y. Mr. Roosevelt's special train was met by Hull, Welles and Assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson.

Government attorneys, meanwhile, pored over the complicated question of whether the full force of the neutrality act should be applied with a proclamation designating the two erstwhile neutrals as belligerents. Technicalities beset the problem.

In Denmark's case, for instance, there had been actually no war. Germany's occupation was "peaceful." In view of this, does a state of war exist to justify a "belligerent" proclamation under the neutrality act?

The situation in Norway was not so clear. The initial resistance to the Nazi invasion, however, produced a state akin to war.

Under Hitler's Control

One thing appeared certain. A sizable portion of Norway and all of Denmark have passed under German control and for administrative purposes constitute a part of Hitler's third reich, at least for the present.

As a consequence, it was considered unlikely that the government would permit further American exports to Denmark or Norway on any but a cash and carry basis or that credits to the two countries

Flashes From War Fronts

(By Associated Press)

STOCKHOLM, April 10. — Norwegian troops defending their government and its new capital fought a fierce battle with invading German forces today at the town of Elverum, 75 miles north of Oslo on the Swedish frontier, according to advices reaching here.

About 200 Norwegians were reported killed and wounded, while German losses were not immediately known.

The Germans were reported sending reinforcements to Elverum speedily, but the town still had not been occupied by 4:30 p. m. (10:30 a. m., EST).

Volunteers joined the regular Norwegian troops to defend the new capital from the invaders. The royal family and the government of Premier Johan Nygaardsvold had fled to Elverum from Hamar, whither it had gone yesterday just ahead of the German occupation of Oslo.

LONDON, April 10.—A Reuters (British news agency) dispatch from Stockholm today quoted newspaper reports there that 120 Norwegians were estimated to have been killed during yesterday's occupation of Oslo by the Germans.

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, April 10.—The Iceland parliament, oldest in the world, today took full control of this northern nation's foreign affairs in view of the German occupation of Denmark, to which Iceland is linked by the Danish crown.

LONDON, Apral 10—Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax declared today that the Allies would fight for "defenseless Norway" regardless of any Norwegian negotiations with Germany, which would be regarded as taken "under duress."

He said he did not know whether a report that Norway was ready

Women's Relief Corps Marks Half-Century Of Civic And Patriotic Work In Community

When members of Trescott Women's Relief Corps No. 34, met yesterday afternoon in the K. of P. hall, it was to celebrate more than half a century of community and patriotic work.

Trescott Women's Relief Corps No. 34, auxiliary to Trescott post of the Grand Army of the Republic No. 10 was organized by "all loyal women" on April 12, 1884, in a hall in the Whinnery building, E. State st. and Broadway, one year after the organization of the department of Ohio.

The corps was formed to assist the G. A. R. in every way possible, at a time when there was much need of help for the widows and orphans of Civil war soldier dead and veterans.

55 Names On Charter

The charter bears the names of 55 members, of whom only one is living, Mrs. Emma Zimmerman, who was treasurer of the organization for many years. Mrs. Cora Schwartz and Mrs. O. C. Juergens joined in 1885, the year after its formation.

Corps activities formed a major part of the community life during the years following its organization. The Washington's birthday dinners served on Feb. 22 each year by the corps in observance of the first president's birthdate were events of importance, long remembered by those of the city who attended.

A fair sponsored by the G. A. R. and W. R. C. held in the old skating rink at N. Lincoln ave. and State st. for a week was a widely attended event.

The post and corps changed their hall from the Whinnery building to the Howell building on N. Broadway, where members spent entire days quilting and sewing for charity. Many social events and special celebrations, including the 50th anniversary of the G. A. R., were held in that hall. At that time the corps entertained the post members, presenting them a gift of $50 to be used in the work of caring for families of soldiers.

Move Again in 1919

The Howell building was sold in 1919 and the two organizations moved into rooms over the Brian dry goods store on Broadway, meeting there until the store was sold in 1933 to the Spring and Holzwarth company, which took over the second floor for its business.

The orders went to the Lease building on State st., where many events of interest were held in succeeding years.

The corps assists with funds for the G. A. R., the Sandusky soldiers home, the Dayton home, the Madison home for widows of the Civil war soldiers, the Xenia home for orphans of the war veterans and educational funds for orphans.

A fire in the G. A. R. hall March 2, 1938, occasioned a move by the corps to the Maccabee hall on E. State st., where quilting activities and regular meetings continued until last year when the group returned to the hall on Broadway which they had left 20 years before.

One day a week, Wednesday, is set aside by the members for quilting at the hall, members completing

11 Destroyers Clash; London Claims Victory

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 10.—A usually reliable neutral source said it had been learned that a British naval flotilla returned to Narvik after the unsuccessful dawn raid today, forced an entrance to the fjord and began landing marines.

There was no British or other confirmation of this report.

The report that the British men-of-war had forced an entrance at Narvik was neither confirmed nor denied by British naval sources, who said that such action would be regarded as highly feasible.

These circles pointed out that the heavy damage to the German destroyers as announced by Prime Minister Chamberlain in the house of commons would make the port extremely vulnerable to renewed attack by a fresh British force.

This might well be one phase of the widespread fighting on the sea and in the air which was continuing, it was said.

LONDON, April 10.—The British and German navies, struggling for mastery of Scandinavia, fought the biggest naval battle of the war off Norway's northwestern coast at dawn today.

Five British destroyers engaged six German destroyers off the port of Narvik, occupied by the Germans yesterday, and before the guns were silenced Britain had lost two destroyers and suffered damage to two, and she claimed to have sunk one of the German craft and left three "heavily hit and burning."

Chamberlain Tells Story

Prime Minister Chamberlain presented a story of the battle to cheering house of commons. He presented it as a British victory, stating that six merchant ships believed to be carrying supplies for the Germans were sunk and that the German ammunition ship Ravensfeldt was blown up.

The British lost the destroyers Hunter and Hardy and suffered damage to the Hostile and Hotspur in their clash with the German vessels, described by the prime minister as being of the "latest and largest type"

Then the house rang with cheers as Chamberlain proudly announced: "One of the German destroyers was destroyed and three were left afloat—hit and burning."

"On the way out," Chamberlain continued, "the British ships met the German ship Ravensfeldt, which was thought to be carrying reserve ammunition of the landed German forces. This vessel was blown up."

In addition, he said, "it is perhaps no less important" than the sinking and damaging of the German naval craft "that six merchant ships suspected of containing unloaded stores of the German expedition were sunk in the action by the British destroyers."

Havoc Untouched

The British destroyer Havoc was untouched, the prime minister said, and he told how, "after the most determined action against the superior force" the damaged Hotspur withdrew, covered by the other two destroyers.

"One of the 1,600-ton German destroyers was torpedoed and believed sunk," he said, adding "the enemy appeared in no condition to attempt pursuit" for they were "heavily hit and burning."

"The house will naturally not expect me to detail any further operations," Chamberlain said in conclusion.

GERMANS ADMIT LOSS OF SHIPS

Expect, However, "Mutually Satisfactory" Norway Agreement

(By Associated Press)

BERLIN, April 10.—Germany announced today that she had lost two cruisers under the fire of Norwegian coastal batteries in landing troops in Norway yesterday, but stated that despite this resistance a complete, and "mutually satisfactory" agreement with Norway would be reached within a few hours.

A high command communique showed that the Norwegians fought bitterly against the Germans, but claimed despite this opposition the occupation of Narvik, Drontheim, Bergen, Stavanger, Egersund, Kristiandsand, Arendal and Oslo. These cities, "among others, are firmly in German hands," said the communique.

(Reports reaching Stockholm said a battle was in progress this morning between German and Norwegian troops at Elverum, 75 miles north of Oslo, where the Norwegian royal family and government took refuge yesterday. The outcome was not known.)

Expect Agreement

Informed German quarters said they expected a complete agreement with King Haakon shortly. The German minister to Norway had an audience with the monarch to clarify the situation and to determine who is responsible for governing Norway, an official announcement said.

(British Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax said today that the allies would regard German-Norwegian negotiations as "action taken under duress.")

It was insisted that German action to "protect the neutrality of northern states" was finished and it was stated flatly that no steps

It's the Woman Who Answers Questions, Say Census Takers

It's women who are providing census enumerators in Salem with most of their information.

This fact was revealed today by one of 10 census takers working in Salem who disclosed that women are interviewed in about 80 percent of the calls to local homes.

Enumerators have found that they are well-informed on most of the census questions, provide answers promptly and courteously. The general response to the census taker's visit, after questions have been answered, runs something like this: "Is that all? I thought there was more."

Hardest questions for the women to answer are those concerning employment of men in the family, such as: Amount of wages earned in 1939, weeks worked in 1939 and hours worked the week of March 24 to 30, this year.

To combat this problem, census takers have suggested that men in the family jot down these items on a piece of paper, and give the information to the woman of the house.

WE KNOW, TEACHER

John T. Flynn's easy-to-understand explanations of economic mysteries have helped many Americans over rough spots in the last few years. When he starts to ask questions, instead of giving answers, perhaps he has something in mind.

Why, he asks in a recent article, do three Chicago banks have more than a billion dollars in cold cash lying unused? Why do businessmen refuse to use vast resources of credit in these—and other—banks?

It may be naive for a hinterland editor to raise his hand and say he knows the answer, but probably Teacher Flynn planned it that way. Men and corporations borrow money for expansion and promotion of new products when they have confidence. They do not borrow money when they have doubt.

There is no mystery in accumulation of money in banks and trust funds, or in the retreat to government bonds. Would-be borrowers simply aren't going to go into debt until convinced they have something better than a fighting chance to get out of debt. Only government dares to mortgage the future without figuring the risk—and government dares too much.

Business borrowers will put money to work and make the wheels of industry hum a livelier tune when they are given assurance of continued freedom, release from strictures, relief from consuming taxation, cessation of bureaucratic threats—in short when the starting signal is given with one magic word—Confidence.

Is that what Mr. Flynn wanted someone to say?

SCANDINAVIA IN THE SQUEEZE

Allied blockading of Norway to cut off sea commerce with Germany is serious business, as every newspaper reader can see by the excitement it causes.

It's a safe bet, though, that the things unseen are more serious than the blockade. There are other ways to get Swedish ore to Germany besides boating it down the coast of Norway.

There is no other direct way, however, to make plain to Norway—and also to Sweden—that the Allies are capable of being just as cold-blooded as Germany about winning the war.

The Scandinavian peninsula cannot and will not be disregarded in the conflict. By the tradition that European nations never are permitted to remain neutral unless their neutrality is advantageous, Norway and Sweden seem doomed to be forced into the war.

The Allies could use their cooperation to advantage in aerial warfare and in naval warfare. The Baltic front, now secured by the German navy, would become vulnerable if Allied bases could be established in Scandinavia; the speculation rises from geography, not from known intentions of the Allies.

Germany cannot be attacked from the west. Attack through the Mediterranean on the south and east isn't practicable. Attack from the north is a possibility. Increasing pressure on Norway and Sweden seems to make it a probability.

SIX MONTHS OF UPS AND DOWNS

Commerce department's percentage picture of U. S. export trade in the first half year of the war looks like one of those futuristic nightmares—good or bad, depending on the individual's taste.

Export trade value is up 33 percent from the level of 1938-39. Despite heavy increases for Canada and Latin America, Europe took 42 percent of the total.

Europe bought in a narrower market, however; it purchased in the United States nothing but war necessities. Trade with blockaded Germany almost disappeared, but loss was offset by increased trade with Great Britain and France. Raw cotton, aircraft, metal working machinery, iron, steel, lubricants and non-ferrous metals were major items. Tobacco, grains, fruits and automobiles fell off. Further reflecting the impact of war on trade, exports to Japan, though 14 percent above the 1938-39 level, fell off 46 percent between January and the end of February, after abrogation of the United States-Japanese trade agreement in January.

Many things might be seen in this picture by the imaginative, but none of them resembles a war boom.

MR. THOMAS IS OFF!

Somehow it's relieving to know that Norman Thomas will be back in there pitching this year. By plugging away at it he has managed to make Socialism respectable—so respectable that only respectable voters waste their votes on it any more.

In 1928 Mr. Thomas polled 267,420 votes, only 7-10 of one percent of the combined Smith-Hoover vote. In 1932, however, Mr. Thomas had a big year; he garnered better than two percent of the Roosevelt-Hoover vote. Almost everyone knew at least one voter in 1932 who couldn't swallow either major party candidate, but felt safe in voting for Thomas, who couldn't be elected anyway. Always a candidate, but never a bride, that's Mr. Thomas.

In 1936 Mr. Thomas hit bottom and didn't bounce. His drawing power slumped to 187,720, only a scant 4-10 of one percent. The Socialist party thought so little of its chances that year it actually spent less money than it took in, the only party so to distinguish itself. This budget balancing should be a potent argument in the hands of Mr. Thomas as he renews his patient labors to overthrow capitalism; it proves the Socialists still take capitalism semi-seriously, among themselves.

One feature of camel life should never be forgotten. Every camel lives in terror of the last straw.

Republican candidate pledges to drive labor goons from Chicago. He wants 'em goon with the wind.

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, April 11

UNDER unusually expansive and productive planetary influences, this day should be one of outstanding accomplishment, with commonplace matters moving into successful channels, and with the artistic, cultural, social and philanthropic urges finding gratifying expression in generous returns for efficient effort. It is a time to work for achieving the goal of heart's desire, both in practical as well as sentimental objectives. Particular success may be realized in connection with groups of kindred ideals and with the support of elders.

Those whose birthday it is may look to a year of much gratification in return for lofty ideals and exalted purpose, with high aims and aspirations fostered by expansive, warming and generous influences. Group work in connection with social, humane or cultural programs is especially likely to succeed, and the hearty support of elders and old institutions is assured. Romantic, artistic and intellectual aspirations are encouraged as well. Work with high purpose.

A child born on this day may have rich endowments for attaining prominence and prestige in the higher walks of life—humane, cultural, artistic and social. Romance and good fellowship also bless its life.

WRITER AWAITS BATTLE FACTS

Too Early, Says MacKenzie, to Get Excited About Norse Events

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Writer

Just by way of showing the orange light of caution one is impelled to say that until the smoke of the naval engagement off the Norwegian coast lifts to give us details of what is now a mystery-battle we shall do well to sit tight and not rock our own boat with excited speculation.

All we know of a certainty is that Allied and German naval and air units are, or have been, in conflict on an angry sea. It would appear that for the first time in history warships have been supported by squadrons of bombing and fighting planes.

If we could say that the entire British grand fleet and the whole German navy were engaged on one colossal conflict, then we should be able to suggest that disaster might lurk in the storm clouds for one side or the other.

Not Going to End War

It is improbable, however, that forces of such magnitude have been involved. This naval engagement isn't going to end the war.

The Anglo-French brotherhood face a formidable task in aiding Norway in that the Germans already are in occupation in considerable numbers. It would be a heroic job for a landing force to fight its way ashore in the face of such opposition.

Germany's coup in occupying Norway and Denmark is likely to have a far-reaching moral effect, and it might even mean another change in Europe's kaleidoscopic map, but from the present military standpoint there actually hasn't been much shifting of weight.

If we assume for the sake of argument that the Nazis will be able to maintain their positions for the time being (and that is a reasonable assumption), then they have made a considerable gain at the expense of the English and French. There is, however, certainly nothing catastrophic about the affair or even approaching the decisive—excepting from the standpoints of unhappy Norway and Denmark.

Heart Dangers, Treatment, Discussed By Clendening

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

What are the dangers and treatment of irregular heart action?

Few children live beyond the age of five without having some irregularity of the heart.

The form of irregularity found in young people is respiratory irregularity, in which there is a rhythmic slowing and acceleration of the pulse occurring with inspiration and expiration. It may be brought out with forced breathing, especially when lying down.

It can be noticed up to the age of 16 or a little past. It is practically never found in those over 20. A valuable sign is that it disappears when infection is present. If this respiratory irregularity comes on after an attack of rheumatic fever, it is an indication that all effects of infection have subsided and it is safe to allow the patient to sit up. Thus an irregular pulse may be a good thing.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Few people, again, live from the age of 40 to 60 without having a form of irregularity of the heart which they can feel. It comes in the form of a dropped beat. They say, "My heart feels as if it had turned over," or, "My heart stops and seems to stand still for a short time." It is noticeable that this bothers most when the patient is quiet, especially after he has retired for the evening before going to sleep.

Uusually Not Serious

Although this condition frightens the owner, it is usually of no significance or seriousness. It is probably due to an irritable heart and may be brought on by stimulants, such as tobacco or alcohol.

Probably the best treatment is some exercise to tire the heart a little. I know people who are prevented from going to sleep by this condition, and they always walk vigorously around the block once or twice when they are so bothered in order to insure getting to sleep.

Theory of Telegony

Are there any biological reasons for believing that it is unwise for a man to marry his deceased brother's wife?

This is an old belief, known in biology as "telegony." It probably originated from the opinion, commonly held by animal breeders, that the father leaves such an indelible impression on the mother that later offspring by a different father will bear the characteristics of the former sire. Thus, dog breeders pretty generally are convinced that a high-bred female who has borne pups to an under-bred dog is ruined for breeding purposes, since she is liable at any time to bear ill-bred pups.

Many naturalists, such as Darwin, Agassiz and Romanes, subscribed to this idea, but Weissmann, the great research worker on heredity, said that "only the confirmation of the tradition by methodical investigation . . . could raise telegony to the rank of a fact," and this declaration started experimental investigation, which proved the falsity of the doctrine.

A famous case was that reported at the Royal Society by Lord Morton. A chestnut mare, after having hybrid offspring by a quagga (a striped horse-like animal of South America), produced, by a full black Arabian horse, three colts which showed a number of stripes. This case was carefully studied, however, and it was pointed out that stripes are not infrequently seen in high-grade Arabian horses without admixture of other strains.

Experiments by Ewart and other biologists have shown in the case of many birds and mammals that no offspring inherit any of the characters from previous mates of the mother.

There is, therefore, no biologic reason why a woman should not marry her deceased husband's brother.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, 235 E. 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet", "Indigestion and Constipation", "Reducing and Gaining", "Infant Feeding", "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes", "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin".

Miss McNicol, Bride-Elect, Honored At Dessert-Shower

A surprise dessert-shower was given last evening in honor of Miss Rita McNicol, bride-elect of Vance Stewart, at her home on Woodland ave.

The affair was arranged by her sister, Miss Carmen McNicol, for her sister and club associates, members of the Bide-A-Wee club. The bride-elect was presented a shower of personal gifts.

The table arrangements and decoration motif for the evening featured spring flowers. A miniature flower garden formed a centerpiece for the attractively appointed table.

Prizes during the evening went to Misses Evelyn Crawford and Lois Dilworth and Mrs. Wesley Kille.

Artist Is Guest of Mothers Club

Paul Hendricks, Canfield artist whose work has been widely recognized, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Progressive Mothers circle last evening at the home of Mrs. Blair Curry, Summit st.

Presented by Mrs. Arthur S. Greenamyer, program chairman for the evening, the artist pointed out important facts regarding the importance of the fine arts in a child's life.

Parents, he said, should have good paintings about the home and before the child so that he may become acquainted with real art. He suggested that parents permit the child to choose his own paintings, according to his own understanding, rather than choose for him something which a child's mind may not understand.

The speaker said that children's study of paintings should deal more with modern American works than the old masters, as the former have come to be recognized in all galleries.

Following his talk he displayed paintings of his own which have been judged as among the best done by artists from this locality and have been exhibited in several galleries. A question hour was held.

Following the program, lunch was served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held April 23 at the home of Mrs. George Ayles, Washington st. The program topic will be "Growing Up With Music."

to negotiate with Germany was well founded, but he added that in any event the Allies would continue to fight for Norway.

"You can take it from me," he said, "that the British navy is not idle."

NEW YORK, April 10. — A London broadcast, picked up by NBC today, quoted an admiralty announcement that the British navy has sunk five of the eight cruisers which Germany had at the start of the war.

Banquet Held Here By Jersey Breeders

One hundred and fifty farmers from Columbiana and Mahoning counties attended the annual banquet of the Jersey Breeders association of the two counties Tuesday night in the Presbyterian church.

Principal speakers were Homer Bohl, Ohio representative of the American Jersey Cattle club, and Charles W. Peters of Minerva, humorist and philosopher.

Bohl spoke on "Jerseys for Profit," and also showed movies taken at the national dairy show in Columbus in 1938.

John Strausbaugh of Lisbon, assistant Columbiana county agricultural agent, served as toastmaster of the program which was arranged by a committee headed by S. J. Eschliman of Salem, president of the Jersey Breeders association.

Columbiana High Students Present Two Productions

COLUMBIANA, April 10—A large audience at the Columbiana High school auditorium enjoyed an evening of comedy, featuring a one-act play, "In the Fountain of Youth," presented by the class in public speaking taught by Miss Estella Esterly, and a streamlined version of "The Mikado", directed by Clair King, school music supervisor.

Those having parts in the operetta included James Burkle, Fred Kidder, Lloyd Coppock, Ted Detwiler, Wayne Brubaker, Mary Burkle, Pearl Bailey, Ruth Mollenkopf, Muriel Miller, Robert Barrow, Don Bush, David Holloway and Richard Gaughn.

Parts in "In the Fountain of Youth" were taken by Mary Chestnut, Harold Costello, Mary Jane Duff, Dorothy Funk, Marjorie Hepburn, Lilburn Snyder, Vernon Hoover, Lula Kurtz, Lilian Lundgren, Evelyn Miller, Betty Moore, Margaret Morgan, Frances Newell, Barbara Robinson, Lilian Holmes, Dawn Stacey and Mildred Trotter.

The Wide Awake class of the Grace Reformed church will meet in the parlors of the church Friday evening at eight o'clock with Mrs. Ed. Myers and Mrs. Mable Longstreet as hostesses.

Miss Stella Kuegle has returned from New York where she spent several days with her brother, Colonel Albert Kuegle.

Mrs. R. E. Weaver will receive associate members of Columbiana Music study club at Valley Golf club this evening.

Local chapter of the Eastern Star held its meeting at the hall last night with members of East Palestine lodge as guests.

Clyde Bauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Bauer, former local High school student, is named on the honor roll at Capital university where he is a sophomore in the teachers training school. Besides doing the required scholastic work he has been active in extra curricular work.

SCHOOL NEWS AT DAMASCUS

The Goshen Township High school chorus will participate in a program at the Methodist church at Salem this evening.

Seven choruses will take part in a benefit for the Zion church of Salem. Sunday evening the chorus will sing at the Reading church.

April 24 they will sing at Fitch in a non-competitive festival for the county, and on April 26 the chorus will give a concert at Damascus.

In the contest at Kent Friday the chorus received a rating of excellent. They were outstanding in diction, interpretation, sincerity, balance and cleanliness.

The rating for the band has not been received.

The Goshen Township baseball schedule includes the following games to date:

April 23, Sebring here; April 30, Leetonia there; May 3, Sebring there; May 15, Leetonia here.

Games are pending with Lowellville and Greenford.

The senior class play, "Freckles," to be given Friday evening, May 17, will open the commencement activities.

Baccalaureate service will be May 19 and graduating exercises Friday, May 24.

Court Fees Higher For January Term

LISBON, April 10.—Clerk of Courts Carl Stacey today submitted a report on the cost of jury fees during the January term of court which exceeded, by $227, fees paid during the preceding term of court.

During the term of court which is just drawing to a close $2,940.56 in fees were paid, of which $333.60 went to grand jurors, and $2,606.96 to petit jury duty in 22 cases. In the preceding term of court jury fees amounted to $2,713.98, the petit jury fees totalling $2,238.66; grand jurors, $475.

3 New Enumerators Aid County Survey

Three more enumerators were added Tuesday for the Columbiana county census which John B. Fickes, district supervisor, declared "is progressing and should be completed by the middle of next week."

Fickes announced the appointment of George Koch of New Waterford, Belva Reeder of Hanoverton and Oris Saffell of Butler township, boosting the total crew to 70 active enumerators with about six held in reserve.

Democratic Group Endorses Taylor

The Columbiana County Democratic executive committee today gave its endorsement of John Taylor of Salem as a candidate for lieutenant governor. Taylor is a former state senator.

The endorsement, which was unanimous, was received in a poll of committeemen, it was announced by Chairman Louis Tobin of East Liverpool and Secretary J. T. Rafferty of Salem.

Investigate Crash

Salem state highway patrolmen were called to investigate a two-car collision at the junction of Routes 224 and 44, at Randolph, at 9 p. m. Tuesday.

The machines were driven by Harold Hanna of Cuyahoga Falls and Joseph Nagy of R. D. 1, Atwater. Hanna and two passengers in his car were treated at the Akron City hospital for cuts and bruises picnics and reunions for the shelter houses at Centennial park already have been made for the summer. Only a few weekend dates remain open.

PARK PROJECTS ARE DISCUSSED

Park Nets $190

The park had 70 reserved reunions and picnics last summer, not counting gatherings which were held without the use of the shelter houses. These reservations netted the city park fund $190, Reich reported.

The park commission also is considering plans for submitting a WPA project to aid in the development of the West End playlot. The city would be able to provide $500 as the sponsor's share of expense in the project, it was explained.

If the WPA would approve the proposed plans, a ball diamond and tennis courts would be built in the large West End tract which the city owns. Park commissioners also are considering digging a new West End skating pond site, with clay from this spot to be used in improving the ball diamonds at Centennial park.

GERMANS ADMIT LOSS OF SHIPS

in relation to Sweden were contemplated.

The Scandinavian states were pronounced by one commentator to be "100 per cent secure against the western powers' desire to involve them in war."

"Nothing to Fear"

"Norway and Denmark," this source said, "may now be positive that the danger of war is over for them, and they may also be sure they have nothing to fear from Germany."

Germans described the military occupation of strategic points in Norway so general and so thorough that the British-French allies under no conceivable circumstances could obtain a foothold in Scandinavia.

At the same time they denied that Germany had occupied the Danish possession of Iceland or Greenland which might have brought the war closer to the American continent.

"Germany hasn't the remotest interest in either Iceland or Greenland and they are militarily of no significance in Germany's fight for existence," it was said. "These lands remain completely under the jurisdiction of Denmark."

Strengthen Nazi Grip

Powerful German reinforcements were reported pouring into Norway and Denmark without resistance, strengthening the Nazi grip on new strategic bases in the north from which the mighty German airforce already has struck its first blows at the combined British-French fleets.

Within a few hours after Adolf Hitler's legions occupied the ancient capitals of Oslo and Copenhagen in a characteristic lightning move, Nazi warplanes took off from Scandinavian airdromes yesterday afternoon, attacked Allied warships west of Bergen, and inflicted "heavy losses."

An official communique said hits had been scored on four battleships, two battle cruisers, three heavy cruisers and two transports.

The high command acknowledged that the cruisers Bluecher and Karlsruhe had been sunk in operations against Norway.

The extent of warfare in the north remained unclear, however, for the high command communique said "operations at sea still are underway."

(British officials denied that any of its warships had been hit directly, but said two cruisers had been "slightly damaged" by bomb splinters. The air ministry reported a German cruiser had been "seriously damaged" by British planes in Bergen fjord.)

In German Hands

The high command reported that "all important Norwegian military bases are firmly in German hands."

Military observers, commenting on this report, emphasized the strategic advantage Germany had gained by the Scandinavian coup, which brought British naval bases in the Shetland and Orkney islands within an hour's flying time.

Germany assured the Norwegian and Danish governments yesterday morning that it would not use the newly occupied areas as a base for operations against Britain unless compelled to do so. Reports that portions of the British fleet were approaching the Norwegian coast apparently were looked upon by the German high command as necessitating emergency action.

"Wherever resistance was met, as at Oslo and Kirstiansund, it was speedily crushed, the Germans said.

Coast Forts Ready

Coastal fortifications, which the high command said had been seized with the cooperation of naval and air forces, were reported ready to repel any attempts to dislodge the Germans by sea attack.

All threat of resistance apparently was ended in Denmark. The official German news agency, DNB, said the only show of resistance had occurred about six miles from the frontier, where Danish soldiers barricaded themselves in a building but surrendered when they saw it was useless to fight.

Danish civil life was reported to be proceeding much as usual.

The Norwegian capital capitulated in mid-afternoon yesterday, DNB said, after the Norwegian government had returned to the lake town of Hamar.

Subsequently, the news agency reported, the government was taken over by a cabinet headed by Mayor Vidkun Quisling, Norwegian Nazi leader, who immediately called upon the people to cease resistance.

Two members of the old regime led by Premier Johan Nygaarsvold were said to have joined the new cabinet.

The morning papers in Berlin were filled with glowing accounts of the occupation of the northern countries, a step which the high command reiterated was taken merely to "protect" them against invasion by the allies.

DEATHS

MRS. TURNER SERVICE

Funeral service for Mrs. Lila M. Turner of Cleveland, a former Salem resident, who died at the Dorcas home in that city Saturday, was held Monday night in Cleveland. A short service was conducted at 1 p. m. Tuesday at Grandview cemetery here by Rev. R. D. Walter.

Mrs. Turner, whose husband, Dr. B. B. Turner, was a prominent physician in North Benton and vicinity some years ago, at one time conducted a millinery store here, after the death of her husband. She was a member of the North Benton Presbyterian church, and later the Salem church.

Born a Marraysville, Pa., Oct. 28, 1859, the daughter of John and Sarah Grove, she came to Salem with her parents when she was a small child. She had lived in Cleveland since 1899 and at the Dorcas home for four years.

Those attending the service included Mrs. Dorothy Ellet, Mrs. Mabel Lafferty and son of Youngstown, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Grove of West View, Pa., Mrs. Retta Biers of Pittsburgh and Mr. and Mrs. Lindsley Grove and Mrs. D. Binsley of Alliance.

STEVE SARCEVICH

Steve Sarcevich, 52, employe of the National Sanitary Co., died at 3 a. m. today at his home, 418 Franklin st.

Born in Yugoslavia in 1888, he came to America in 1913. He was a member of the Serbian National federation.

He is survived by his wife, Mary; one brother and a sister in Europe.

Funeral service will be held at the home at 2 p. m. Friday in charge of Rev. Drenovac of Youngstown. Burial will be in Grandview cemetery. Friends may call at the home anytime.

"CASH - CARRY" TO BE INVOKED

Commenting with gravity on the European situation, President Roosevelt said enroute to Washington yesterday that the events of Monday and Tuesday undoubtedly would cause a great many more Americans to think about the potentialities of he war. This, he said, would be a good thing.

State department officials awaited further word of the Allies' intentions and activities, particularly their announced plan to bring military aid to Norway. If this materialized, making Scandinavia an active theater of war, the neutrality act might have to be invoked in full.

Will Affect Credits

The President's decision in the matter also will affect the status of the $10,000,000 credit advanced to Norway last month by the export-import bank and an equal credit granted Denmark several days ago.

The state department completed a paper program for the possible evacuation of about 1,600 Americans living in Denmark and Norway, pending further information as to what danger exists.

There was speculation as to whether the President or Secretary Hull would issue a statement condemning Germany's invasion of the small Scandinavian states.

"SELF MADE GIRL" by HAZEL LIVINGSTON

CHAPTER XXXII

Lately Linda caught herself thinking more and more often of marriage. Other girls married. Why shouldn't she? And it was different here, different from the way it was in New York. The people she knew here in San Franciscco didn't assume that she was just somebody's stenographer, a girl to be wined and dined, and loved and taken care of—but not married.

No, indeed. The girls she knew here were like herself, the girls who moved at least in the outer fringes of society, girls who were invited anywhere, who went everywhere, girls of good family, good education, refinement, background.

Well, the others were, anyway, and she had nothing to be ashamed of, really. If her family wasn't just what she represented it, it was at least respectable and good. She might not have been to the fashionable schools that somehow or other everyone seemed to think she'd gone to, but she'd made up for it in night schools and art museums and lecture courses and reading. She'd WORKED for what she had! Not that anyone knew it or gave her credit for it.

Oh, to be able to TALK to someone. To really talk to someone! Sometimes, rushing downtown to do a little shopping at noon, she'd go into a dairy lunch or a soda fountain for coffee and a sandwich and sit next to two girls gossiping together and the way she and Gladys, or Nola, or Hester used to gossip, back in New York. Talking about things they really cared about. Keeping nothing back. Saying what was in their hearts. Oh, how she envied them!

With the loneliness came the longing to see Glenn McAllister again. Not sweetly, sentimentally, as she might have longed to see him once. Just to show him, and his Ruth, how well she'd gotten along without him.

Everybody else came to California, why didn't they? They had so much, they thought they were so important—why didn't they trave It would be so easy to bump into them somewhere, at the cocktail hour in one of the hotels, for instance. Or coming out of a theater, or later, the opera. She'd be wearing one of her new, smart dresses and her mink coat. And Ruth..... oh, well, Ruth would be all dressed up, of course. There was no excuse in the world for HER not looking well, with all she had to spend on herself. But, unless she'd changed an awful lot since the Rosefield days, she'd be looking tacky, for all her expensive clothes.

Linda would be with Ned, probably. Ned, who always looked like a million dollars. They'd sail by, and then she'd turn and put out both hands and cry: "Glenn—and Ruth What a surprise!" And she'd introduce Ned, who'd be a little possessive, a little anxious to be rid of them, and afterwards Glenn would say to Ruth: "That Hilliard fellow seems to be in love with Linda—" And then he'd remember when he used to be in love with her, and he'd look at Ruth—and wonder what the dickens he ever married her for, and—

And then what?

Nothing. Nothing at all.

After one of these day dreams Linda usually had a headache and went to work next day with swollen eyelids and pinkish nose. But on this particular October night the image didn't end there. It went on. It went on to her marriage with Ned.

Ned had been more than half in love with her for nearly a year. She was, as far as she knew, at least, one of his own kind. No one would be surprised if he married her. No one would think it an unusual match. The old senator would be delgrted, Mr. Delaney would be delighted, Mrs. Rons would probably come north for the wedding...

This time Liunda didn't weep, as she contemplated her own wedding to someone other than Glenn McAllister.

She sat up very straight, her eyes no longer dreaming and sad, but hard and bright.

It was spring again, and Linda was nearly 25. Over seven years since she started out on her own, a year and a half since she came west.

Hardly five months since she made up her mind to make Ned marry her, and already it was as good as done. He hadn't actually asked her yet, but he would. She knew. She could see it in his eye.

He'd reached the dependent stage. Nothing was worth while unless she shared it. A play, a book, a bit of verse, even a joke. She had to read it, or see it, or listen to it, before he could really enjoy it himself. He'd practically given up his favorite sport, golf, because she didn't have time to share it. All he did was hang around, and wait for her to be through work so that they could go somewhere, or he would come over to the apartment with her.

Men always went to extremes. Instead of just asking her to marry him, and then marrying her and getting it over with, he had to go on this way, getting himself into a stew, and wearing her out, all over nothing. It was natural for a couple of kids to work themselves up to a frenzy and drive everyone else half mad.

She could remember her mother complaining when she was a kid, running a temperature over Glenn McAllister..... at least she was a kid, then! Time for that sort of thing. Thank heaven she was past it all now. She hadn't been in love for so long now she'd almost forgotten what it was like. Not that she didn't love Ned! She did, very much! She enjoyed every minute with him. And when they were married she knew she'd be very happy. Because then he'd go back to his old interests, and she'd have time to sit down and catch her breath.

Now it was rush, rush, rush. Rush to work. Rush out to somebody's house with Delaney, who did a lot of appraising for insurance companies. But it was fun, and it paid well. Then back to the senator's, to catch up with the everlasting cataloging or help Sterling with some letters. She had hardly time for her own affairs, and she didn't know HOW she'd have managed without Clarice, who did all her personal laundry and mending.

When I DO get married, she'd think, I'm going to take about a week off, and sleep. I'm going to lock all the doors and stuff the telephone bell, and tell the maid I'm not to be disturbed. Maybe I'll sleep TWO weeks—or THREE—

The was beginning to look jaded, and tired, and Ned was beginning to fuss about it, and to tell her that she had no business killing herself off for Senator Arnold, and somebody ought to put a stop to it.

It wouldn't be long now. About the next time he spoke of it, he'd see the answer was marriage.

If only he'd get it over in a hurry. If only Blanche would stop her whining, complaining letters, reminding her of the family—the family—always wanting something.

If only her head didn't ache so much. If only she could really sleep after she went to bed at night. If only she'd stop worrying about imaginary things, if only she could stop THINKING—

Strange that she'd never worried about the thing that did happen. The thing that Blanche had written about, and hinted about—Lawrie and Della and their little Sonny, coming out to California.

It was early in April. A made-to-order day. For once, Ned wasn't there to walk home with her, and that in itself gave her a freer, springier feeling. The senator's old Scotch gardner had given her an armful of roses to carry home, and a strawberry box full of apricot and purple violas. They were lovely and, as she walked the few blocks in the late afternoon sun, she planned just how she would arrange them.

She hummed a happy little tune as she fitted her key in the door, and was glad that it was Clarice's day off, so that she could have fun with her flowers herself. She might even telephone Ned that she was too tired to see him, and then she'd fix herself a fruit salad and go to bed early, with all the new magazines, and have a swell time. Of course he'd be worried and would have a lot to say about her overworking, and.....

"Clarice?" she called, a little anxiously, for there was someone stirring in the kitchen. Oh, dear—it wasn't Clarice's day off, after all!"

Instead of Clarice's sleek, dark head and the expected "Yes, madame"—a strange young woman with a round, full face, above which curled a most amazing crop of red-gold waves and curls and spirals of baby-fine hair, emerged from the kitchen, and threw both plump arms around Linda.

"I hope you don't mind our coming in this way. We explained to the doorman, and finally they let us in—"

"DELLA!" Linda said. Her flowers slipped to the floor.

From one of the deep chairs in the living room, a man..... no, it couldn't be—it MUST be—Lawrie, rose, shoes squeaking at every step. He came, his shabby dress, his shaggy hair and unshaven cheeks, getting clearer with his every step: "Hello, kid, how are you? Surprised?"

"Well—of course. I—I can't believe it. I—Wait a minute—I'm out of breath!"

The telephone rang. The manager's voice came anxiously over the wire. "I let a couple with a little boy into your apartment, Miss Perry, but I've been worried about it, though they said they were your brother and sister-in-law, and they had letters from you to prove it. I meant to do the right thing. I hope—"

"It was all right," Linda said.

Of course. She'd forgotten. There was a boy. He was here, too, naturally.

"Where's Sonny?" she asked.

Lawrie's haggard face lit. "Gee, you do remember your folks! Maybe we're not so unnecessary after all. See if Big Shot's awake, Del—we just put him down on the bed, he was all in. Jeese, it's a long trek across the continent, and don't let anybody tell you different. And we're sure glad to get here—"

"I'll say!" Della shouted, on her way to the bedroom.

RATS ADVANCE JITTERS STUDY

Finds Little Animals Experience Emotions Similar To Man

CLEVELAND, Medical authorities long have known rats as the fittest subjects for experimentation because of their susceptibiliay to human diseases, but investigations at Western Reserve University indicate another—and perhaps stranger—affinity between men and rats.

There is growing evidence that rats have serious emotional troubles. Like problem children or adults they sometimes shun their fellows, manifest the jitters and refuse to eat.

And so the Western Reserve psychology department under Dr. Calvin S. Hall is probing into the private emotional life of rats, keeping close tabs on the moods and frets of the little animals in search for clues to the mounting toll of human beings falling victim to serious emotional diseases.

Two Strains Developed

Dr. Hall is not yet ready to make any official announcements concerning his "emotional" rats, but his investigations are advancing. He now has a considerable colony of the rodents, including two strains which have been inbred until their "personality" traits are very distinct. There is one strain of unemotional or phlegmatic rodents and another jittery of emotional strain.

Dr. Eleanor Yeakel of the affiliated Florence Stone Mather College for Women, collaborates with Dr. Hall by searching for physical reasons for rodent temperaments. She has found, for example, that emotional rats have oversize glands.

Recently a problem believed to be neurotic was shipped from Harvard University to Reserve for observation and experiment. Momie, as the "problem" was dubbed, was a sore trial at first. She sulked, shunned her fellows, refused to exercise and ate in intervals. Suddenly she responded to special treatment, returning to normality in a few days. Momie was blind and nobody had known it. When Dr. Hall took steps to alleviate some of the disadvantages caused by Momie's sightless eyes, her behavior problems disappeared.

DOCTORS WARN FOLKS WHO ARE CONSTIPATED

IT IS SAID constipation causes many human discomforts—headaches, lack of energy and mental dullness being but a few. BUT DON'T WORRY—

For years a noted Ohio Doctor, Dr. F. M. Edwards, successfully treated scores of patients for constipation with his famous Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—now sold by druggists everywhere.

Olive Tablets, being purely vegetable, are wonderful! They not only gently yet thoroughly cleanse the bowels but ALSO assist liver bile flow to help digest fatty foods. Test their goodness TONIGHT without fail! 15¢, 30¢, 60¢.

INJURIES BOTHERING MAJOR LEAGUE CLUBS

TWO KEY MEN ABSENT FROM CARD LINEUP

Injury Jinx Also Handicaps Many Other Big League Clubs

BY JUDSON BAILEY

NEW YORK, April 10.—Injuries, which have decided as many of baseball's pennant races as any .350 hitters, aren't waiting until the major league season opens to get in their deadly licks.

As the St. Louis Cardinals grope northward two key men in the Redbirds' National league plans are convalescing in St. Louis. They are First Baseman Johnny Mize and Second Baseman-shortstop - Third Baseman (nobody knows which) Jimmy Brown. Both have knee troubles.

Jimmy Dykes, who had figured the Chicago White Sox infield woes were whipped, has had to install Rookie Bob Kennedy at third base and send Eric McNair to second because Jackie Hayes has an eye infection.

Lou Boudreau chipped a bone in his ankle three weeks ago and just when he felt ready to go back to work the Cleveland Indians lost, at least temporarily, the services of southpaw Pitcher Al Milnar and righthander Mel Harder.

Johnson Laid Up

The Philadelphia Athletics have been without Bob Johnson almost all spring, first because of a pulled muscle and later a torn tendon.

Rookie Dom DiMaggio of the Boston Red Sox sprained his ankle sliding; Manager Joe Cronin contracted a bad cold; Jim Tabor cut his hand and Ted Williams sprained his wrist. Joe Gordon of the Yankees has a charley horse.

The bottom is slipping out of the Brooklyn Dodgers' stock because Manager Leo Durocher's throwing arm was hurt. Rookie Peewee Reese, his understudy at shortstop, has been injured twice.

And perhaps most decisive of all the individual hurts, Charlie Gehringer, the great but aging second baseman of the Detroit Tigers, has a lame back he says was caused shoveling snow during the winter.

PLAN BOWLING FETE APRIL 23

200 Keglers Expected To Attend Banquet At German Hall

Plans for Salem's annual bowlers banquet, crowning event of each bowling season, were announced today by W. H. Juergens, secretary of the Salem Bowling association.

The banquet will be held at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, April 23, at the German hall on Railroad st.

About 200 bowlers from eight men's leagues are expected to attend. Leagues which will be represented at the annual get-together are the American, National, Electric Furnace and Federal of the Masonic temple alleys and the Quaker City, Owl, Pastime and Commercial of the Grate Recreation lanes.

The program for the banquet has not been completed, but a prominent speaker is expected for a short talk.

Officers of the association for the 1940-41 season, elected by a vote of team captains last week, will be announced.

BOWLING RESULTS

A siege of postponements and forfeits curtailed the city's bowling activity last night, resulting in only three matches being bowled in three leagues.

A lone National league match at the Masonic temple alleys saw the top-ranking Gem Shoe Shine team, which has already clinched the championship, sweep three games from the Masons.

Two matches in the City Duckpin league gave the leading Blue Ribbon Paints three wins over Martin Tires and the third-place DeRienzo's Spaghetti Shoppe a pair of victories over the second-place N. B. O. P. No. 2.

Three forfeits completely blanked Owl league activity. Grate Motors forfeited three games to the Sanitary Enamelers, the Trades Class forfeited to DuPont Paints and the Old Timers forfeited to the Martin Tire Sales.

32 AAU BOXERS SET FOR BOUTS IN SEMI-FINALS

Six Hawaiians are Among Survivors In Boston Tournament

BOSTON, April 10. — Hawaii, romantic isle of the Lei, steel guitar and surfboard, also appears to be the home of the greatest of the current crop of amateur boxers.

Six bronzed battlers from that faraway spot in the Pacific were among the 32 qualifiers for tonight's semi-final and final action in the national A. A. U. boxing championships. Four Ohioans also were on the list.

Probably the outstanding Hawaiian was Light Heavyweight Raymond Quintal, who appears invincible in his division.

Jimmy Mulligan of Lowell, who disposed of Cozey Storace of Rome, N. Y., the only defending champion, was the favored welterweight.

Wide Open Class

Four rugged middleweights survived preliminary action, Harry Benoit of Amsterdam, N. Y., Louis Angelucci of Chicago, Joe Maxim of Cleveland, and Milton Jones of St. Louis, and that class appeared wide open. Not so among the heavyweights, however, for "Cyclone" Williams of Buffalo, stood out like a beacon among the all-Negro semi-finalists.

Results of Ohioans in the quarter-finals:

126: Frank Robinson, Oil City, Pa., scored a technical knockout over Max Schindler, Lorain, second round.

135: Beauford Glover, Mansfield, decisioned Leroy Collier, Albany, N. Y.

147: John Lawer, Cleveland, outpointed Leroy Furst, Omaha, Neb.

160: Joe Maxim, Cleveland scored technical knockout over Neil Kinney, Hartman, Ark., second round.

175: James Reddick, St. Louis, defeated Houston Johnson, Portsmouth.

Heavyweight: James Strayham, Wilberforce, outpointed Jerry Nelson, Riverhead, N. Y.

SINGLES FIRING UP TO STANDARD

Six Men Have Hit Above 700 In ABC Pin Meet At Detroit

DETROIT, April 10.—While the scoring in the team, doubles and all-events divisions of the American Bowling Congress continues to miss fire, the singles class is up to championship caliber.

With the tournament entering its thirty-fifth day of competition, six men have beaten the coveted 700 mark.

Steve Kukla, a stocky little left-handed Detroiter, fired a 704 solo series last night for fifth place.

Mike Ulisky of Kittanning, Pa., who approaches the foul line with his right foot in front, took seventh place with 700.

John Kuenn and Duly Smith of Sixconsin Rapids, Wis., hit 1287 for fifth in the doubles while the Walter Miller-Arlie Smith team from Hicksville scored 1283 for sixth. Team leaders remained unchanged.

MORNING TRACK WORKOUTS SET

Salem Athletes To Practice Thursday and Friday

Kept from practice early this week by inclement weather, candidates for Salem High school's track and field team will work out Thursday and Friday mornings at Reilly stadium.

Coach Fred Cope planned three practice sessions for his squad during the current spring vacation, but his schedule was interrupted by rain and cold weather.

One-hour workouts will be held Thursday and Friday mornings, starting at 10, to make up for lost time.

The Quaker athletes are preparing for their first meet Friday, April 19, a dual affair with Youngstown Rayen at Youngstown.

Tulsa Heavyweight Under Suspension

PITTSBURGH, April 10.—Indian Jim Merritt, Tulsa heavyweight, is under indefinite suspension by the Pennsylvania athletic commission for his poor showing Monday night against Jim Thompson, Pittsburgh Negro.

Thompson floored the Indian twice in the first round and knocked him out after 15 seconds of the second.

Merritt was scheduled to fight Lee Savold, a ranking heavyweight, Thursday night in Des Moines but Matchmaker Dave Fidler said Irish Eddie Boyle of Cleveland had been substituted.

Morbito Is Named

EAST LIVERPOOL, April 10.—Joseph Morbito, High school football coach, was appointed playground supervisor here today. He will supervise 12 play centers in July and August.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

By EDDIE BRIETZ.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Indianapolis has feelers out for a lightweight title match. . . . They want the Sammy Angott-Davey Day winner to meet the Lou Ambers-Lew Jenkins winner on the eve of the Memorial day 500-mile speed classic. . . . Most of the golfing big shots are killing time until the $5,000 Goodall round robin tournament next month by playing exhibitions in the south.

Finance Department

Jimmy Demaret won $7,652 in tournament money last winter. . . . Actually, his golf earnings doubled that. . . . Jimmy is pretty much of a home boy. . . . So, in order to get him out of Houston, the manufacturer whose clubs he plays offered to match every dollar he won.

The Yanks left Owensboro (Ky.) in the Kitty league voting the field there one of the finest in the south. . . . Banks McFadden, Clemson's great back, has low blood pressure and probably couldn't play pro football next fall if he wanted to. . . . After patrolling the gardens in 27 exhibition games, Hank Greenberg said: "I hope they never ask me to play first base again."

Toodle-oo

It looks as if Old Diz is through
If what he showed in his debut
Is what he calls his stuff.
Of speed and hook he is bereft;
His head is all that he has left,
And that is not enough.

Today's Guest Star

Ron Best, Moline (Ills.) Dispatch: "John Romans, veteran High school coach at Galva, took the examination for postmaster. . . . John yearns for a job where he can keep his letter men longer than four years."

Amen: Appropriately enough, the house Bob Pastor is building at Saratoga is located on Church street.

Holmes to Manage Fayetteville Club

DAYTON, April 10.—Howard E. (Ducky) Holmes, one of the most colorful figures in the Mid-Atlantic baseball league, will manage the Fayetteville, Ark., club in the Class D Arkansas-Missouri league this season.

Holmes was labeled the No. 1 showman of the league during his 1932-38 tenure as owner-manager of the Dayton Ducks. His Dayton career was terminated suddenly in 1938 upon a 120-day suspension for an altercation with an umpire.

The Brooklyn Dodgers later reorganized the Ducks, changed the club nickname to Wings and gave Holmes a scouting job. The Dodgers also operate the Fayetteville team.

Plan Qualifier

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., April 10.—The West Virginia district qualifier for the U. S. amateur golf tournament was scheduled today for August 27 at the Guyan Country club here. The district includes southern Ohio and eastern Kentucky.

VITT WORRIED OVER LACK OF GOOD HITTERS

Indians Not Sure About Strength of Their Outfield

CLEVELAND, April 10. — With opening day near Manager Oscar Vitt of the Indians has expressed concern over his lack of power hitters.

If the Redskins fail to get necessary slugging this season, the brunt of the blame will fall on the outfield which ordinarily produces a good share of the extra-base blows.

Vitt has named Jeff Heath, Roy Weatherly and Ben Chapman as his starting gardeners, with Beau Bell and Clarence Campbell in reserve. Heath is the only one of the five rated a consistent long-distance hitter.

The outfield "weakness" contrasts sharply with the 1939 opening when the Indian roster listed six experienced fly chasers, including four players who slammed many extra-base blows.

Heath, Weatherly and Chapman remain but Earl Averill, Julius Solters and Bruce Campbell have been traded or sold.

Averages .315

Chapman's average for exhibition games this spring is .315, the best of the list, and includes seven extra-base hits. Weatherly and Heath also have notched seven better-than-singles, with Roy's average .299 and Jeff's .276. Last season Chapman hit .290, Weatherly .310 and Heath .292.

Bell's exhibition record includes three extra-base blows for a .302 average. Clarence Campbell, appearing mostly as a pinch hitter, has batted .292.

Defensively, the Cleveland outfield stacks up well and Vitt has indicated his plans will stand unless Weatherly fails miserably at the plate and it develops the club needs hitting strength badly. In such a case Chapman would probably move to center, with Bell in right.

NELSON QUITS WINTER GRIND

"Pain In Neck" Pro Calls Tournament Circuit In Sunny South

TOLEDO, April 10.—Byron Nelson dropped his golf clubs in a corner of the pro shop at Inverness today and hoped his new post as a journeyman of the links would "bring a little rest."

The 1939 National Open king complained he was tired, observing he found winter competition far from refreshing.

"It's no fun," he said with conviction. "Some have the idea it's a long vacation. . Sometimes it's a pain in the neck."

Although ill with influenza as the winter troupe swept through California, the 26-year-old Texan comes to Toledo as the sunshine circuit's third-place money winner.

Succeeds Al Sargent

Nelson, succeeding Al Sargent as Inverness professional, reported he expected to play "only a little national golf this summer—The Open at Cleveland, the PGA and the Inverness invitational."

"I plan to compete in some state and district meets, too," he said, "but for the most part I will devote considerable time to Inverness and its members."

As master of the Toledo course, Nelson joins Billy Burke of the Cleveland Country club among Ohio's golfing great. Burke won the 1931 National Open after a 72-hole playoff and it also was at Inverness that Bobby Jones made his bow to big-time golf, finishing eighth in the 1920 Open while yet a boy.

A native of Fort Worth, Nelson resigned a professional's position at Ridgewood, N. J., to come here.

Training Camp Briefs

ASHLAND, Ky., April 10.—The Brooklyn Dodgers are hoping that Roy Cullenbine, their expansive outfielder, isn't just an American leaguer who saves all his best performances against rivals from that circuit. Against the Yankees, he clouted a homer and a single that helped score another run yesterday and contributed a fielding gem when he snatched George Selkirk's liner off the fence.

Reds Pitchers Handicapped

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — Paul Derringer is scheduled to go the full distance on the mound for the Cincinnati Reds against the Boston Red Sox today in their final spring encounter. Bad weather in Florida and on the way north has kept the Reds' pitchers from rounding into form. Joe Cronin of the Red Sox, with the same sort of troubles, called upon Denny Galehouse, Emerson Dickman and Jim Bagby, Jr., to split the mound chores.

Davis No. 1 Catcher

OWENSBORO, Ky.—Spud Davis, former Philadelphia catcher, is definitely No. 1 catcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates now while Ray Mueller, for whom they paid some $35,000 to Boston, may be sent to the minors.

Boudreau O. K.

TARBORO, N. C. — Shortstop Lou Boudreau of the Cleveland Indians, who returned to the lineup for yesterday's game with the New York Giants, said afterwards he "couldn't even feel" the ankle which laid him up for three weeks because of a chipped bone. The Giants called upon Carl Hubbell today in an effort to check Cleveland's clouting.

Women Bowlers Meet At Temple

A meeting of women bowlers of the Masonic and Grate leagues will be held at 7 p. m. Monday at the Masonic temple.

Officers of the Salem organization of the Women's International Bowling Congress will be elected and other matters pertaining to women's bowling activity in Salem discussed.

All bowlers of Salem's two women's leagues are urged to attend the meeting.

ROCKPILE, Cal.—This city became something more than what its name might indicate when Joseph Di Giorgio presented the Rockpile School District with three acres of land as a play-ground for the school children. Rockpile residents always call Mr. Di Giorgio "Uncle Joe."

URGE TO WANDER QUIETED AT 109

Aged Mexican Woman Has Decided She Will Settle Down

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Cal.—Senora Plasidas Martinez Amarillas, aged 109, has decided to settle down here and begin the enjoyment of life.

She chose Mountain View after a life of wandering because her youngest son, Theodore Amarillas, lives here and there are enough children and grandchildren to keep her busy for a long time.

Senora Amarillas was born in the State of Sonora, Mexico in 1830. She was one of many children, but as her father had plenty of land there was ample space for all to play without cluttering things up too much.

In 1865, when she was 35, she came to the United States with her husband and settled at Phoenix, Ariz.

At that time peace between the North and the South was a year old and Mexico had decided 17 years before to cede California to the United States.

At Phoenix, her husband went to work driving stage coaches for the government while she remained at home and took care of 11 children.

Sixty years later, when the senora was 95, she heard of Los Angeles and came west to live with a son. There she enjoyed everything Los Angeles had to offer—from the moving picture studios to the Santa Anita race track. She admitted at the time she liked to be around where things were happening.

In 1935, however, at the more mature age of 104, she felt the urge of wanderlust, as well as a desire to see another one of her sons, so she took a bus and came to Mountain View, a mere jaunt of 420 miles.

When she discovered so many children—grandchildren and great grandchildren—at Mountain View, she knew she had found her place and at once took over life she had at 35 and became "boss" of the house.

She recently posed for press photographs, smoking her pipe the while, and wisecracking with photographers by saying there would be a charge for posing. She said she had learned that at Hollywood.

"But I don't see why people come to see me," she said. "After all I am the baby of the family. My brother, who still lives in Sonora, is 115."

TURLOCK, Cal.—Police rushed to the rescue of civic decorum when telephone calls advised them in the early hours of the morning that a nude man on roller skates was meandering down the middle of U. S. Highway 99. When they got there they found it was a man wearing shorts and training for a roller skating race.

HOMEWORTH

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Irwin are visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Shively, at Jackson, Mich., this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Maple and children of Glassport, Pa., spent the weekend with Mrs. Maple's father, W. A. Baker.

A surprise party was given Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E Grimes in honor of Mrs. Grimes' birthday. A delicious supper was served. Mr. Grimes received a number of valuable gifts.

Rev. Wilbur M. Bantz of Toledo inaugurated a preaching mission Monday at the Church of the Brethren at Reading, east of Homeworth. Rev. Bantz will conduct the series of services from April 8 to 21.

Recent guests at the home of Mrs. Rena Thomas were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cassidy and daughter Saundra of Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rastetter and V. L. Thomas of Alliance, Delmar Beadwell and children, Shirley and Billie, of the Harrisburg road.

GREENVILLE, S. C.—Mrs. A. E. Ramseur celebrated her 80th birthday by taking her first airplane ride. She called it the biggest thrill of her life and said she planned more flights.

WICKENBURG, Ariz.—The Hassayampa river, flowing between Wickenburg and Prescott, Ariz., is held to blame for many of the "tall stories" originating in the American southwest. According to legend a person who drinks of the river's water while facing downstream can never again tell the truth.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pints of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 10¢ and 25¢. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

THIS RIDE SETTLES IT, WE'VE BOUGHT A FORD!

WE'RE seeing lots of real-life situations this year like the typical but imaginary one shown here. It doesn't take you long, on the road in a 1940 Ford V-8, to find that here's the greatest money's worth so little money ever bought!

TRY THE RIDE! The surprising big-car ride that's one of 1940's big motoring events!

SEE THE ROOM! Extra knee-room, leg-room, head-room . . . you'll find a Ford surprisingly big inside . . . where bigness counts most!

FEEL THE POWER! Of the only 8-cylinder engine in any low-price car. Smooth, responsive power fewer cylinders don't give!

CHECK ON ECONOMY! The 85 h.p. Ford's 24.92 miles per gallon in the famous Gilmore-Yosemite economy test was best of all standard-equipped cars at its price!

COMPARE FEATURES! Biggest hydraulic brakes at low price! Only semi-centrifugal clutch giving lower pedal pressure at shifting speeds, and the only hardened valve seat inserts for all engine valves at low price. Positive, easy-acting finger-tip gearshift. Lots of others, too, worth your knowing!

COME IN TODAY! Drive a Ford V-8. Get its whole convincing story for yourself . . . before you choose any new car!

CHECK EQUIPMENT! See how much more you get in a Ford at no extra cost!

This year talk "Trade" with your Ford Dealer first!

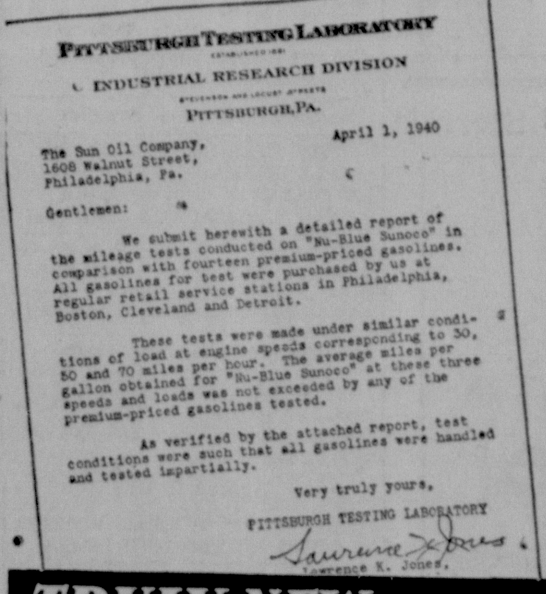
AGAIN WE SAY... premium priced gasolines are good-BUT why pay the premium?

NU-BLUE SUNOCO

PROVED
UNSURPASSED
in mileage

in scientific tests against 14 leading extra-priced gasolines



PITTSBURGH TESTING LABORATORY
INDUSTRIAL RESEARCH DIVISION
PITTSBURGH, PA.

April 1, 1940

The Sun Oil Company,
1608 Walnut Street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Gentlemen:

We submit herewith a detailed report of the mileage tests conducted on "Nu-Blue Sunoco" in comparison with fourteen premium-priced gasolines. All gasolines for test were purchased by us at regular retail service stations in Philadelphia, Boston, Cleveland and Detroit.

These tests were made under similar conditions of load at engine speeds corresponding to 30, 50 and 70 miles per hour. The average miles per gallon obtained for "Nu-Blue Sunoco" at these three speeds and loads was not exceeded by any of the premium-priced gasolines tested.

As verified by the attached report, test conditions were such that all gasolines were handled and tested impartially.

Very truly yours,
PITTSBURGH TESTING LABORATORY
Lawrence K. Jones
Lawrence K. Jones.

... yet it sells at regular gas price

Exhaustive tests conducted by a nationally known technical organization proved beyond question that Nu-Blue Sunoco is unsurpassed in mileage compared to 14 leading extra-priced gasolines, and since it sells at regular gas price, Nu-Blue Sunoco gave more-miles-per-dollar.

These tests were made to cover different driving speeds – low, medium and high; .. and regardless of speed, Nu-Blue Sunoco was unsurpassed in miles-per-gallon.

Prove it to yourself ... in your own car
